

With Mother's Day just a week away, let's take a brief trip down memory lane. Recall her familiar chorus, "Don't tell me you love me...show me!" She may have been exhausted when she said it. There may have been tones of sadness in her voice. But, deep down her desire was for you to become a person whose love for her, and others, and God Himself, would be evidenced by your behavior. Jesus wants us to experience a dynamic and true relationship with Him that would be attended to by obedience to all that He taught His disciples. He invites us into the same kind of relationship that He had with His heavenly Father.

_____ the Father's love for the Son:

_____ the Son's love for the Father:

_____ on the Son's love for us:

_____ what Jesus says:

Personal Application and Interaction

1. How do you know when someone loves you?
2. How did Jesus know He was loved by His heavenly Father?
3. Describe the relationship you have noticed between Jesus and His Father.
4. Jesus words, "If you obey my commands, you will remain in my love", are attention grabbers. Which of those eleven words are most challenging to you?
5. How does this text (John 15: 9-10) address your current relationship with God? So, where do you go from here?
