

When did you begin to realize that your father sacrificed much in silence for you? What did you do to honor him for his labor of love? What does a dad need in order to be “a happy father”? What does any dad who knows and loves the Lord really need from us?

It’s a beautiful thing when a father can find joy in knowing that his children:

Personal Application and Group Interaction

1. What are some of your fondest memories of your relationship with your father?
2. Every father has “feet of clay.” How was that evident in your father? How did you resolve or handle that?
3. What do you think gave your father great joy? How did he express happiness? How did you fit into that picture?
4. How do you think you communicate to (your) children that God’s truth matters to you and therefore to them?
5. How do the people closest to you know that you love the Lord?
6. How does your love for God and the fear of the Lord work in concert in your experience?
