What's on your calendar for 2018? What changes do you foresee in the way you will do things? How do you plan to challenge yourself? What adventures lie on the horizon? When will you do whatever it is that you've wanted to do for quite some time? What opportunities will God set before you? How will He reveal His will to you? What promises from God will you draw upon? How will you serve Him and His people and His work in the world? How will you run the race set before you?

Today we pick up the account of God's work after Jesus ascended into heaven. Jesus told His followers to take a breather and then get the word out empowered by the promised Holy Spirit. That race is still set before us.
