

Biblical Perspective

Who's On Deck?

1 & 2 Thessalonians

Pastor John
June 30, 2013

Around our house it's major league baseball season and one of us is a major fan. Our teams may not be boasting about a winning season but that fan now has a young one who is sharing her enthusiasm for the game. He's absorbing so many aspects of the game and eagerly anticipates every batter. "So, who's on deck?"

What's on the horizon for the days ahead? Decadent and turbulent times have found people asking big questions and looking to God for answers. While Jesus promised he would one day return, he also told his followers they were to stay on mission until that time. That promise was the topic of deep concern for one young church. The instruction they received gives us an assuring response to the question, "Who and what's on deck?"

1 & 2 Thessalonians

An inspiring beginning

Awful opposition:

Left alone:

Letters:

Let's review and fill in what's needed

What next?

Let me say this another way....

Why should we care about what's next?